TAFT GETS SEVENTEEN MORE

President's Friends Refuse to Seat Both Roosevelt Delegates From the Eleventh Kentucky District and Agree to Split—Senator Borah Protests and Francis J. Heney Severely Arraigns the Committee.Chicago, June 12.—One delegate for Colonel Roosevelt, the first awarded him since the national committee began hearing contest cases last Friday, and seventeen for President Taft, were the net results of the session of the Republican national committee.In all 101 delegates have been according President Taft since the committee opened its hearings. The one placed in the Roosevelt column was D. C. Edwards, from the Eleventh district of Kentucky. The Taft forces on the committee refused by a vote of 33 to 19 to seat both of the Roosevelt delegates whose places were contested, but agreed to split, which gave Colonel Roosevelt and President Taft each one delegate from the district.The half victory for Colonel Roosevelt came at the end of a day in which all of the other contests from Kentucky had been decided in President Taft's favor. In some of these the Roosevelt men had acquiesced; in others they had mustered a vote of from eleven to seventeen against the Taft decisions.Senator Borah, the most active Roosevelt figure on the committee, protested against the splitting of the Eleventh district delegation."There is no justification for it," he declared. "If one is given both should be."Roosevelt Men Fight Hard.
Arthur I. Vorys of Ohio had made the motion to seat the divided delegation. John G. Capers, Senator Borah and Francis J. Heney led an effort to adopt a substitute to seat both Roosevelt men, but they could muster only nineteen votes. The split delegation was then unanimously seated.President Taft's four contested delegates at large from Kentucky, headed by Senator W. O. Bradley, were seated with only eleven votes in the negative.
He was given the six from the First, Second and Tenth districts unanimously.The contest against the two in the Fourth district was withdrawn and the five from the Seventh, Eighth and Eleventh districts were given to Mr.
Taft against the votes of the Roosevelt forces.Sharp interchanges between Francis J. Heney of San Francisco and Taft members of the committee characterized the long session over the Kentucky contests. Mr. Heney, who will appear in the hearing of the California contests, repeatedly referred to frauds in the Kentucky elections and compared conditions to those that existed in California under Abe Reuf.Early objections to his remarks were followed by sarcastic replies of "Thanks" from Taft members of the committee when he criticized their decisions.Governor Hadley of Missouri, who is to come before the committee this week as a Roosevelt contestant from Missouri, also was in the committee on the proxy of another member.

GARFIELD PREDICTS UPRIISING

Says Ohio Verdict Is Still in Minds of People.Chicago, June 12.—"We've got them skinned despite the work of the national committee," said James R. Garfield of Ohio, who was Colonel Roosevelt's secretary of the interior. "This committee cannot stop the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt."The verdict of Ohio is still fresh in the minds of the people of this country. Penrose, Crane and the others in that committee room do not realize what the people as a body are thinking. There will be an uprising against the action here."This nation has been aroused as it has not been in a presidential campaign of recent memory and the verdict is on the side of the progressives.
"The convention proper will undo the 'raw' things this committee may put over. Colonel Roosevelt's friends are confident of the outcome."

Princeton Awards 300 Degrees.

Princeton, N. J., June 12.—Two hundred and fifty-six graduates, the largest class in the history of Princeton university, received degrees at the 156th commencement in Alexander hall. Many honorary and post graduate degrees also were awarded by President Hibben, acting for the first time in that capacity, and the total number of degrees well over the 300 mark.

St. Paul, June 12.—Gall Walker, two-year-old daughter of George B. Walker, right of way agent for the Northern Pacific railway, fell two and one-half stories from an elevator cab down the shaft in Schuenebaum & Evans' department store to almost instant death. She struck on her head, receiving a fractured skull and broken neck.COLONEL GROWS

RICH IN BITING INVECTIVE

Roosevelt Protests Against Course of Affairs at Chicago, Attacks in Strong and Bitter Terms Taft Men on Republican National Committee and Takes Sharp Fling at the President Himself.Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 12.—Colonel Roosevelt in a statement issued at Sagamore Hill again protested against the course of affairs at Chicago. He attacked in bitter terms the Taft men on the national committee and the president himself.Mr. Taft assumed "that the presidency is to be treated as a gift within the bestowal of the politicians, in defiance of the duly expressed wish of the people," he asserted."Such conduct," Colonel Roosevelt wrote, "comes dangerously near being treason to the whole spirit of our institutions, to the whole spirit of democratic free government."The former president laid especial stress on the action of the committee in seating the Taft delegates from the Thirteenth district of Indiana, notwithstanding the fact, he said, that the Roosevelt men were clearly in the majority in the convention which was called to elect these two delegates.
Colonel Roosevelt's statement says in part:"The question at Chicago becomes clearer with every vote of the national committee. It is simply whether the people have the right to nominate whomever they wish for the highest office in their gift or whether by deliberate theft and fraud certain machine leaders, acting in the interest of special privileges, are to be permitted to deprive the people of this right."Says Taft Is Repudiated.
"By an overwhelming majority where they have had the opportunity to express their wishes at the primaries, the plain people, the rank and file of the Republican party, have repudiated Mr. Taft. Now we are face to face with the question whether the people rule the Republican party or whether the party is to be ruled by the discredited bosses whom the people have themselves repudiated.""Massachusetts has just defeated Mr. Crane as a delegate to the Chicago convention. But Mr. Crane is in Chicago acting under the orders of Mr. Barnes in the steam roller tactics.
Franklin Murphy has just been defeated in New Jersey as a candidate for delegate and all twenty-six New Jersey delegates are for me. But Mr.
Murphy is on the national committee at Chicago taking part in the effort to pack the convention against the choice of the Republicans of his own state.""Mr. Penrose has just been defeated for delegate in Pennsylvania, but he is a Taft leader on the national committee. Mr. Mulvane of Kansas has just been defeated for national committee in Kansas. Mr. William Allen White taking his place. But Mr. Mulvane is on the national committee acting with Mr. Penrose.""The Taft people were overwhelmingly defeated in Kansas and Pennsylvania, yet Messrs. Mulvane and Penrose, the two Taft lieutenants, are foremost in the effort to thwart the will of the people who have just defeated them."

Seeking to Destroy Party.

"These men prattle about 'regularity.' Who are the regulars? The great majority of the Republican rank and file who have just overwhelmingly repudiated the bosses, or the bosses who have just been overwhelmingly repudiated by the rank and file? The national committeemen, like Messrs.
Penrose, Mulvane, Murphy and company, have no claim to speak for the Republican party, have no claim to consider themselves regular. They have just been repudiated by the Republican party. They have no wish for Republican success. Their actions make it evident that in their anger at the party that has repudiated them they now seek to bring the party down to share their own disaster."After reviewing at some length the results in several states where primary elections were held the statement continues:"Mr. Taft has been repudiated by the people and he now appeals to his representatives in the national committee, half of whom have themselves also been repudiated, and asks them to force his nomination on the rank and file of the Republican party, who have declared that they do not wish him. Mr. Taft, at one period of the campaign, said I was unjust to him because I stated that the bosses were for him and the people against him.
Events have proved that I was right."

Indirect Benefit.

"Sorry you couldn't attend our banquet last night, doctor. If it would have done you good.""Thank you. It has done me good.
I've just prescribed for three of the guests."—Boston Transcript.SECRETARY MACVEAGH.

DECLARES TAFT WILL WIN

Franklin MacVeagh Predicts Success on First Ballot.Chicago, June 12.—Franklin Mac-Veagh, secretary of the treasury, visited the Taft headquarters and declared that President Taft would be nominated on the first ballot."Things are looking better for President Taft every day," said Secretary MacVeagh. "His friends believe that he will be nominated on the first ballot, thus disposing of a lot of discussion that might follow. The contests which the Roosevelt faction has instituted are not well founded. The action of the committee awarding them to President Taft with practical unanimity is clear evidence of this."TWO ARMY AVIATORS MEET INSTANT DEATHRapidly Traveling Aeroplane Suddenly Crashes to Earth.College Park, Md., June 12.—Lieutenant Leighton W. Hazlehurst, Seventeenth infantry, U. S. A., of Macon, Ga., and A. L. Welch of Washington, D. C., were killed here when a new army aeroplane of the Wright type, in which they were flying, fell to the ground at the army aviation school and was wrecked.Lieutenant Hazlehurst and Welch had just started on their trip and had reached an elevation of about 200 feet when the machine suddenly crashed to the ground. Death to both was instantaneous. The machine was wrecked.Welch was flying the machine and Lieutenant Hazlehurst was with him as a passenger. They had ascended a distance of about 200 feet when they dipped to come down and got up again.
When about thirty feet from the ground and going at a tremendous speed, estimated by eyewitnesses to be forty-five miles an hour, the machine collapsed and dashed to the earth. Apparently the weight of the engine and the two aviators caused the collapse.Captain C. De F. Chandler and seven other army officers witnessed the crash.

BARNES DENIES COMPROMISE

Taft Adherent Indulges in Vigorous Statement.Chicago, June 12.—A murmur of gossip suggesting a possible compromise candidate which swept through the hotel lobbies drew forth a vigorous statement from William Barnes, Jr., of New York. Mr. Barnes gave out the following comment on behalf of the Taft forces:"There has been talk and some newspaper publication regarding a compromise candidate for president.
This proposal is purely a ruse on the part of the Roosevelt forces, who realize that they will be defeated in the convention and are now endeavoring to break up the Taft alignment by talking compromise."Mr. Barnes was emphatic in his declaration that there would be no compromise.

either making returns manifestly in error, no figures at all or not coming in, the Democratic vote shows Wilson 3,848, Clark 3,844. Nothing more definite can be obtained here until the official count is made, but the state chairman may have the figures.With official on all counties but Harding and Bennett, the final figures on senate are: Sterling, 25,694; Gamble, 24,468. With official on all counties but Harding and Bennett, Hepper-lee leads Glassner by 571. Returns on counties not yet in are not expected until the official count is made.

CANNOT GET BILLS THROUGH.

Uncertain Who Is to Succeed Senator Crane as Chairman of the Rules Committee—Controversy in the House Shows How Little Pairs Amount To.
The Office of "Whip."

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 12.—[Special.]— It seems to be impossible to get bills through which will enlarge the public health service, while the attempt to create a department of health has gone glittering. A bill was called up in the house some time ago relating to the public health service, and upon investigation it was found that it simply increased the salaries of the doctors in the service. Objection was made that the bill did not carry the features of the Mann bill of the last congress, Mann pointing out how much better his bill was which passed two years ago. Chairman Adamson of the commerce committee explained that while the committee in the last congress was willing to pass the Mann bill it would not consent to it now.All of which shows that the tendency is against enlarging the powers of the health service.

Senatorial Room Clerk.

I think it was Secretary Knox when senator and chairman of the rules committee called himself the "senatorial room clerk" because most of his duties related to the assignment of rooms to senators in the capitol and office buildings. W. Murray Crane is now chairman of that committee, and the job suits him. Who will get the place when he retires is uncertain, but some one can be found to take it.The rules committee is also a graveyard for various propositions, mostly resolutions to change the rules of the senate. Such measures are often introduced, debated, their necessity urged and referred to the rules committee, where they sleep forever. Such has been the fate of Heyburn's resolution to deny newspapers publishing executive session news representation in the senate press gallery.

Congressional Pairs.

A controversy arose in the house over pairs, which showed how little they amount to; that men often are paired for a proposition they oppose and for something they are against because the idea seems to be to pair a Republican with a Democrat on everything, no matter what it may be. Not half the votes in the house are on partisan lines.Congressmen Garrett and Sims both asserted that pairs might well be abolished, which caused Speaker Clark to remark, "If the two gentlemen from Tennessee want authority to back up their position they had better read Thomas Hart Benton's 'Thirty Year View,' where he discusses the whole matter."The speaker subsequently said that Benton ripped the whole business of pairs up one side and down the other, showing it was absolutely improper.

A Deadlock Recognized.

Every time Vice President Sherman finds it necessary to be absent from the senate that body recognizes that it is in a deadlock over the election of a president pro tempore. The insurgents will not allow Senator Gallinger to be elected, and the regulars will not select any other man. From time to time a senator will move that another senator be designated to act as president pro tempore during a short absence of the vice president, and so by unanimous consent the vexed question is avoided.
It requires the passage of resolutions each time notifying both the president and the house of the action in order to legalize legislation which may be passed.

"Whip" Not a Legal Officer.

For the first time in my recollection the word "whip" as applied to the men designated to look after the political interests of the different sides of the house was carried in an appropriation act. It went out on a point of order made by the ever watchful Minority Leader Mann, but not until after considerable discussion occurred. Had it gone through it would have allowed the "whips" to send telegrams at government rates to get members to come back to Washington and attend to their duties. The "whips" do that now, but without legal authority, payment being made from the contingent fund.

Interesting Developments.

The controversy over sending telegrams at government rates developed interesting facts. It was not generally known that nearly every government officer can send messages at a greatly reduced rate if it pertains to official business. About a cent a word is the rate. Congressmen have enjoyed that in telegraphing their constituents, and the money is paid by the government. There were congressmen who had run bills of over $200 per month at this low rate, which showed that they were doing a great deal with the wires.
Much of this was for purely political work. When they came to a vote on it the house did not curtail any of the privileges it has been enjoying in this particular. The economy plan has not reached the point where members are willing to deny themselves.

as a spectacular preliminary to the convention next Tuesday. Congressman William Kent of California, who it is probable that Governor Johnson

SWEEPS AWAY TOWNGreat Loss of Life May Have Occurred at Buffalo, Wyo.Sheridan, Wyo., June 12.—A wall of water from a cloudburst in the mountains swept down Clear Creek canyon onto the town of Buffalo, partly wrecking the place and presumably causing a number of drownings. At last accounts the water was entering the second story windows of the telephone exchange and a communication had entirely ceased.Buffalo is a large inland town, having about 3,000 population. It is situated in the Clear Creek canyon and, while only a few blocks wide, the town is more than a mile long. The canyon sides are steep and high.The telephone operator at Buffalo called Sheridan and reported a great wave of water had swept down the canyon, carrying away many brick buildings. Many people had been drowned, but no idea of the number was obtainable."That water is now flowing into this room through the second story window and—" and here the wires went down and no further communication was possible.

TRIES TO KILL DAUGHTER

Murderer About to Be Hanged Attempts to Strangle Girl.Washington, Pa., June 12.—With but a few hours to live, Jan Ribarik, condemned to die on the gallows for a triple murder, attempted to add another to the list of his victims by trying to strangle his daughter when she appeared at his cell to bid him goodby.
Antonia Ribarik was a witness against her father at the trial and her testimony was damaging to his case.
Ribarik previously had threatened to kill his daughter, but a week ago apparently became reconciled to her.She called to bid her father farewell and as she stepped forward to kiss him he grasped her by the throat and was strangling her when guards beat him into unconsciousness with an iron bar. Later he was led to the gallows and hanged without expression of regret for his crimes or his attempt to take his daughter's life.

the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., had entered into a conspiracy to assassinate the jurist.Strangers approaching the judge find themselves closely scrutinized and this watch will be continued dur-

MURDERER STILL AT LARGE

Iowa Authorities Have No Clue to Slayer of Eight.Villisca, Ia., June 12.—Another day passed without the authorities being able to secure a clue by which they might make an arrest for the murder of the entire family of Joseph Moore and two girl guests Sunday night. The bloodhounds again were put to work on a trail and took their keepers over a big stretch of country. Their efforts were centered in the west bottoms of the Nodaway river, from whence a report came that the dogs had found a fresh trail and that footprints similar to those found on the east side of the river had been discovered.

public against itself at the Republican national convention.L. G. Hechinger of East Orange, N. J., who is filling his fourth term as chief convention clerk, is to be sergeant-at-arms and a corps of eight assistants are working day and night preparing the engraved commissions and badges of honor for this vast

REV. DR. J. M. BUCKLEY HAS RETIRED FROM WORK.

Editor of Christian Advocate Was Known as the "Bishop Maker."

The Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley, known in the Methodist Episcopal church as the "bishop maker" and for thirty-two years editor of the Christian Advocate of New York, recently withdrew from active service.

It was as a starter of controversies that Dr. Buckley became most widely known. Editor of one of the strongest Methodist Episcopal church papers and conceded to be one of the most brilliant men in that church, he has had a large following, and there was almost as large a group which was actively opposed to many of his teachings. Educated at Wesleyan university, he was forced to leave because of his health, and in 1859, after he had been accepted into the ministry, he began an itinerant ministry. Four years later, after touring and studying in Europe, he came back to America and accepted a call in Detroit and later in Brooklyn.

In 1880 he became editor of the Christian Advocate. Before the war he preached strongly against slavery and actively worked against the sale of liquor. In 1890 he expelled from his church a treasurer, who was his personal friend, because the treasurer, who owned a drug store, sold whisky.
He also expelled the richest member of his congregation, who was operating a brewery.

Stories are told about his wonderful memory. At one time he read through a two column editorial once and then recited it verbatim.

Dr. Buckley had a dry sarcasm, which he used effectively whenever any one at a conference or meeting made extravagant statements. Four years ago charges of slander, libel and disloyalty were made against him by the Rev. Dr. George Cooke. Dr. Cooke had charged Professor Bowne of Boston university with heresy, and Dr.
Buckley undertook his defense. His manner of reply was what caused the charges against him. He was cleared.
Dr. Buckley was born at Rahway, N.
J., on Dec. 16, 1836.

INCREASE ELECTORAL VOTE.

Next College to Cast 534 Instead of 386 Ballots.

The senate committee on the judiciary has decided that under the new congressional apportionment the next electoral college shall cast 534 votes instead of 386 under the old apportionment.

This point is left in doubt by the wording of the apportionment act adopted Aug. 8, 1911, which provides that the new apportionment shall take effect "after the third day of March, 1913."

The electoral college casts its vote in December, 1912.

To test this point Senator Curtis introduced a resolution providing that the vote of the electoral college shall be under the existing apportionment.
The senate judiciary committee reported adversely on this resolution and in favor of raising the voting strength of the electoral college on the new apportionment.

The matter is also pending before the house committee on judiciary, and while no action has been taken by this committee, it is understood that a majority of the committee is in accord with the senate view.

"So there's another rupture of Mount Vociferous," said Mrs. Partington as she put on her specs. "The paper tells us about the burning ladder running down the mountain, but it don't tell how it got afire."—London Tit-Bits.

UNIVERSITY WEEK

University Programs Are Attracting Large Crowds in Every City

Worthington, Minn., writes under June 10th: "The University week's exercises closed in this city Saturday with a good attendance.
The principal feature of the morning program was an address by President Vincent on the subject, 'The Philosophy of Life.' His address aroused cheers repeatedly from the crowd that thronged the auditorium.
At 8 P. M. the auditorium was again thronged to hear Dr. Richard Burton deliver his address on the subject, 'Dickens, the Man and His Work.' The conclusion of this number marked the closing of one of the greatest educational features ever attempted in this city. That the entire affair was a success is attested by these in charge and that the movement was a popular one by the people of this city was proven by the large attendance at each session."

Rochester, Minn., is making special preparations for a great week.
The Commercial club has appropriated $100 to be used for the entertainment of visitors, while the ladies of the Civic league have assumed the responsibility of making the week a success financially.

We believe that the citizens of Brainerd and vicinity will rise to the occasion to make the week compare favorably with what has been done in other cities. Inquiries have reached us from out-lying towns as to the purpose, plan and program of the week. Here is an opportunity for every citizen to show his civic pride by using his efforts to make this one of the most successful events ever arranged and presented in Brainerd.

The programs for Monday and Tuesday have already been published in the previous issues of this paper.
Wednesday's program is "Public Health" day.

9:30 A. M.—"War Against the White Plague," Mr. A. R. Blakey, for the State Board of Health.

10:15—"Provision for the Protection of Public Health in Minnesota," Dr. H. W. Hill, Epidemiologist of the State Board of Health.

11:00—"School House Construction," Prof. F. H. Bass, Dept. of Municipal and Sanitary Engineering.

2:00—"Fighting Contagion," Dr.
H. W. Hill.

2:45—Anti-Tuberculosis, Nurse.

3:30—Reading Hour, Miss Harriet Hetland.

4:30—"Municipal Public Works," Prof. F. H. Bass.

8:00—Dramatic recital, "Polly of the Circus" or "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," Miss Harriet Hetland, of Minneapolis School of Music, Oratory and Dramatic Art.

This week demands great expense and labor on the part of the university authorities, and they are bearing the greater portion of the expenses; but to insure local support and to defray expenses a small charge of $1.50 for a season ticket is made.
This ticket will entitle the holder to attend all the sessions and no extra charges will be made for reserved seats. Reservations will be made at the box office Friday night from 7:00 to 9:00 and all day Saturday. Tickets may be secured at these places and from the following persons: Dunn's drug store, Y. M. C. A., Mr.
Carl Zapffe, Mrs. Geo. Forsythe, Rev.
J. J. O'Mahoney, Mrs. Irma Camp
Hartley, Rev. G. Phil Sheridan, Mrs.
C. M. Patek, Mr. H. F. Michael, Mrs.
J. A. Thabes, Rev. M. L. Hostager, Mrs. J. M. Elder, Supt. W. C. Cobb and Principal L. C. McCarty. Other places will be designated and persons will be assigned as the demand is created.

The ticket committee reports a daily increase in the sale of tickets.
The Federation of Labor, which holds its session here the same week, has already purchased 250 tickets for the "Merchant of Venice," which is to be given Monday night. This feature alone has drawn from 1,000 to 1,200 people in the southern section of the state. Tomorrow we will publish the program for Thursday.

MILWAUKEE ROAD THROUGH BRAINERD

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Road Said to be Planning a Line From Fargo, N. D.

CONNECTION AT BRAINERD

With Proposed Line From Ortonville, Thus Making Brainerd a Division Point

The latest thing in railway building affecting Brainerd is the Fargo telegram featured in the Duluth Herald which gives credence to the story that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway is to build an air line from Fargo and Moorhead through Brainerd to Duluth and that Brainerd will be made the point for connecting with the Ortonville line.

The dispatch states: "Fargo and Moorhead are to have direct lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad to Winnipeg and Duluth, according to the statements of R. Hamilton, of Milwaukee, engineer in charge of the company's construction. The line to Winnipeg will run directly along the Red River on the North Dakota side to Grand Forks, where it will cross the river going north to Winnipeg on the Minnesota side. The line from Duluth to Moorhead and Fargo will be an air line.

The Commercial clubs of Moorhead and Crookston have obtained practically all the right of way between these two cities, while Fargo and Grand Forks Commercial clubs have obtained practically all the right of way for the opening line on the North Dakota side.

The company that has been organized to acquire a right of way from Ortonville to Duluth is believed to be a Milwaukee enterprise, or at least it is felt that the Milwaukee stands ready to step in and take over the right of way when it has been acquired.

A glance at the map of Minnesota shows an interesting situation. The projected line from Ortonville will run through Morris, Alexandria and Brainerd. A line from Fargo and Moorhead to Brainerd, connecting with this projected line from the southwest, would give almost a direct line to Duluth. This would give the Milwaukee road a connection from Duluth and Lake Superior with its main line to the west at Ortonville, and also connections with its Winnipeg line at Fargo and Moorhead.

The Cuyuna range should pay regard to the efforts which the western Commercial clubs have put forth to acquire the right of way for the Milwaukee road. No stumbling blocks have been placed in the way. They have raised the money and the people, seeing the advantage of the road, have not held out for exorbitant prices. Cooperation was shown on both sides.

GOLLMAR BROTHERS CIRCUS

The Big Circus That is Different From Other Shows in the Country

There are many ways in which the Gollmar Brothers shows differ from other circuses and a visit to the monster tented enterprise when it comes to Brainerd Saturday, June 22nd, will cause people who have been complaining that all shows were alike as to quality, to deny this statement, by adding, "excepting the Gollmar Brothers circus."

Gollmar Brothers shows resemble other tented enterprises inasmuch as the performance is given under a tent. When it comes to the circus acts themselves it differs widely from other institutions which are nered as "great" shows.

The menagerie is more than twice as large as that carried by other circuses. The Biggest Hipp in captivity is in this department. The only hybrid lion-tiger, with the lion's stripes on the tiger's skin, is another rare feature.

A grand street parade is given in every city visited. And the turn-out is the biggest free feature offered with any circus of the present day.

TAFT GIVEN MORE DELEGATES

Special to Dispatch:—

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—Six delegates at large from Arizona and two from the Fourth district of California, were placed in the Taft list by the National Committee at its morning session today. There was no vote on the Arizona contest. In the California controversy the vote was 37 to 16.

Brainerd City Band May Play at Little Falls July 4 at Brainerd-Little Falls Game

What will Brainerd do on the Fourth of July? Apparently nothing, when one views the conditions of affairs obtaining at the present time.

While the city is apparently letting things run themselves, most of our music is being appropriated by other cities. Pequot and Dykeman will have good, old fashioned Fourth of July celebrations.

Little Falls will celebrate and expects to engage the Brainerd City band for the occasion. The day will also have an added attraction for Brainerd plays Little Falls there.

Crosby will probably have a celebration. Interest in baseball matters will be stimulated because Royaton plays two games in the range town that day.

In the meantime Brainerd seems to be doing nothing and at the last minute something may be done after half the town has made arrangements to spend the Fourth out of town.

RAILROAD BUILDING EXCITES COUNTY

Cuyuna Northern Surveyors at Work on Line From Deerwood to Ironton and North

GRADING TO COMMENCE SOON

Cuyuna-Mille Lacs Mining Co. to Ship Ore on Road On September 1st

Crow Wing county seems to be standing on the threshold of the greatest railway development, extension and improvement the country has ever seen.

Deerwood, Ironton, Maganese, Crosby and the entire range country is in a seething fever of excitement today. Surveyors with their instruments are running a line from the western part of Deerwood to the north and survey stakes are dotting cabbage patches, flower gardens and berry haunts.

The Cuyuna Northern railroad is reported to have announced its intention to extend its line in accordance with the tonnage contracts entered into with the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and the Cuyuna-Duluth iron companies.

The extension will be about 5½ miles in length starting from a point on the Northern Pacific railway just west of Deerwood near the Oberg farm; then running along the south side of Serpent lake, through Ironton, to the Cuyuna-Duluth Mining Co.'s newly acquired holdings, being lands leased from E. A. Lamo and John H. Hill; then in a northerly direction to the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs company's mine. The grading will be commenced as soon as the entire right of way is secured.

The proposed road will cut through the Smith west park addition situated east of Ironton and money is being subscribed and raised in Ironton and vicinity to get the right of way through this section. At eleven o'clock last night most of this sum had been raised.

The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs iron company contract calls for the hauling of ore by September 1 and it is estimated that up to 20,000 tons will be sent out during the present season.

The mining company has placed a contract with the Imperial Iron works of Duluth for a complete mining equipment, consisting of two 150 horsepower boilers, an air compressor, hoist, shaft head frame, crane, etc. In shipping ore within 15 months from the time of beginning drilling, the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs Mining company has certainly established a record.

The Cuyuna-Duluth Iron company is making preparations for active mining this fall. As it was incorporated only last October, results reached in short order. The Cuyuna-Duluth Iron company is in good order. The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs has a large bed of ore tapped by its shaft and the quality is of a high grade, being rich in manganese.

It means something to build a road through this section. Farmers, miners and others can do their share by helping the road get its right of way and by placing no obstructions in its path.

ESDON ETCHINGS

Ruth Chord came from Duluth last Wednesday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Sabrina Chord.

BASEBALL ITEMS

Brainerd Team Practicing Steadily—The St. Cloud Protest—Bush Loses Game

The Brainerd nine is engaged in steady practice. The boys were out in uniform last night. Playing Manager Cailan also wants the boys out for practice on Thursday and Friday evening from 6:30 to 8:30. All players should have their uniforms on.

The St. Cloud protest will be heard at Little Falls this afternoon, a directors' meeting having been called to examine into the St. Cloud-Crosby game played at Crosby last Sunday. It is alleged that Crosby imported too many players or something of the kind. Before taking up such a charge the directors should consider that Crosby came into the league after being given four days' notice. She had not time to select or train a team. She lost five games and never complained. The attendance at the St. Cloud-Crosby game last Sunday was 500 or more. At Royaton Brainerd played championship ball and the attendance was a slim 150. In taking up this case of alleged infractions of the rules the Central Minnesota Baseball association had better first size up conditions.

Bush beamed a batter in the game he pitched for Missoula against Ogden June 9 and in that fatal fifth inning the Brainerd boy let in five runs. The final score was 5 to 1. It took several buckets of water to revive Shortstop Woods and the accident unnerved Bush. In the next inning Bush resumed his old time form.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the fraternal orders, the Car Repairers union and friends for their beautiful floral offerings and kindness and sympathy extended to us in our bereavement of husband and father.

So light running that your "youngest" can now mow the lawn without help.

KEEN KUTTER Mowers are fast cutting and easy running because of the double gear and the fine ball bearings. A KEEN KUTTER will last longer than any mower on the market and is easily kept keen and sharp. To sharpen, merely reverse the blades and they sharpen themselves. A cheap mower will cost more in the end on account of repairs, will not do the work properly and will require twice as much labor.

Prices, $6.75 to $15.00. Other Mowers from $3.00 up.

SOLVED SOUTH SEA MYSTERY

Late Dr. Woodworth Made a Study of the Palolo Worm.

PUZZLE TO THE ZOOLOGISTS.

Why the Creature Appeared at 3:42 a. m. on a Certain Day in Early November or Late in October of Each Year According to the Moon.

Dr. William McMichael Woodworth of the Museum of Comparative Zoology at Harvard, who died recently, was the discoverer of the solution of a mystery which had puzzled zoologists for half a century. This was the identification of that mysterious worm of the Pacific ocean which makes its appearance on a clockwork schedule once a year, exactly at 3:45 in the morning of a certain day in early November or late in October, according to the quartering of the moon.

This remarkable animal is found on a certain few reefs of a few of the south sea islands. It occurs in parts of Samoa, in Tonga, in Fiji and in some of the New Hebrides and bears the name palolo in the several island tongues. Its recurrence each year is a matter of no little interest to the islanders, for it is esteemed as a delicacy, being used raw, just as it comes dripping from the salt water or cooked by steaming in the pit ovens. Either way it has the flavor of highly salted spinach and is quite satisfactory to the European palate.

Differs From Other Animals.

It differs from all known animals by reason of its strict observance of a calendar all its own, yet one which the islanders have learned to compute for themselves. The hour of its appearance is the moment of slack water ebb at the third quarter of the moon which comes nearest the first of November. Five minutes before the appointed time the reef pools are empty, the sweep of the fine nets used in the fishery yield nothing but a water haul. All at once the water becomes alive with a writhing mass of worms, each of the diameter of a pack thread and five or six inches long. The fishers raise one shout of wild glee when the palolo appear, but that is the only shout, for afterward all months are crammed with the dainty morsels as fast as the nets can scoop them up.

In the earliest days of the London mission in Samoa the Rev. John B. Stair secured specimens of palolo and sent them preserved in alcohol to John Edward Gray of the British museum. By him their position in the scale of the lower life was determined, erroneously it has since been proved. He gave the specimens the scientific name of Palolo viridis. For fifty years the strange periodicity of the palolo was a perpetual challenge to students. It was the despair of zoology.

He Solved the Mystery.

In 1898 Dr. Woodworth determined to solve the mystery, went to Samoa for the purpose and established himself in a Samoan community nearest the reef where the palolo crop was greatest, at Faletata, on the south shore of the island of Upolu. In the earlier experience which he had had in Fiji the previous year, in the consent of the experience of all other students who had essayed the problem, he recognized that the mere observation of the rising of the worms in the reef pools at the gray of dawn offered no solution. He prepared for the event by establishing a rude laboratory in which he could subject the reef itself to close examination. This consisted of a series of tanks on the shore in which he deposited lumps of coral cut from the outer reef and kept them under a steady flow of water drawn from the lagoon. He established the necessary control by crumbling other coral blocks to pieces and identifying all the worms discovered in the crannies.

On the appointed morning, as soon as the first shouts coming out of the darkness across the lagoon proved that the palolo had appeared, Dr. Woodworth was delighted to discover by lantern light that the worms were rising from the coral in his tanks and that the laboratory was giving him the opportunity for study which the reefs had for so many years refused to two generations of zoologists. In eager haste he picked the coral blocks to pieces and was able to find the source of the edible worms.

Gray In Error.

Gray had been in error when he named the worms. His determination was based on mere fragments. Woodworth was able to see the whole process. The worms were not really worms, but only specific spawning organs of a much larger worm which never was seen outside the coral. This worm he identified as a member of a well known genus and established for it a new species under the name of Eunice viridis.

The history of the recurrence of the palolo became somewhat plain. Under the seasonal instinct to spawn the worms in the coral, each as large as a man's finger, shed the palolo to writhes for an hour in the still water of the reef pools and by this means to insure the continuity of life. It is not yet known why this instinct is so true to the calendar of its race, but Dr. Woodworth was able to solve the great mystery.

ORIGIN OF THE SYSTEM OF NATIONAL CONVENTIONS

Early Methods of Making the Nominations Were Different.

The Procedure That Is Gone Through With Every Four Years.

ONCE in four years comes a chance for a comparatively few lucky persons to see the biggest, noisiest and most exciting thing in American life—a national convention assembled to nominate a president of the United States.

The two great political parties, the Republican and the Democratic, have each its own separate show, and they are held in different weeks. But being a visitor to a national convention isn't something any one can be. Quite aside from the cost of railroad fare to the convention city and the hotel expenses there, it is no easy matter to get into the convention hall. Admission is by ticket, and the tickets can't be bought. You must know somebody who has an official part in the convention. There will be about 20,000 spectators in the convention hall at Baltimore, though twenty times that number would be glad to get in if they could.

Though the United States has had thirty-one presidents, yet there have been only eighteen nominating conventions such as are now about to be held. The present form of convention was given its first tryout in 1840. Before that various ways of nominating were in use.

The Idea "Jest Grown."

The idea of the national nominating convention is neither a political inheritance nor a conscious contrivance. It is a product of evolution which has "jest grown" to meet the exigencies of the unique method provided by the constitution for choosing a new president or vice president every four years. The constitution decrees that each state shall pick as many presidential electors as it has persons representing it in congress—i. e., two electors to correspond to the two senators from each state and as many more as the state sends members to the house of representatives.

The first presidents were not nominated at all, but received the votes of the presidential electors of their respective parties by a sort of spontaneous consent. In the first two elections, those of 1789 and 1792, because the whole nation wanted George Washington at its head there was no call for nominations. Upon his retirement the preponderant feeling of one party was for John Adams, that of the other for Thomas Jefferson, and it occurred to no one formally to set forth what was unanimously understood.

In 1800 came the first hint of what is today the national convention. While agreed on their presidential choice in Jefferson, the (Democratic) Republicans hesitated as to their candidate for the vice presidency. A meeting of the Republican congressional members was summoned to recommend Aaron Burr for this office. Though small and secret, the meeting is noteworthy not only because it was the first congressional caucus, but because it was the first thing to be done in the way of a party nomination.

From 1800 to 1824 nominations were made by congressional caucuses. The death knell of this method was sounded by public sentiment, which cried out against the practice as being an arrogant usurpation of the rights of the people.

A solution was not at once forthcoming. The present day national convention was undergoing a series of metamorphoses from 1824 to 1840, nominations being irregularly made by state legislatures, popular meetings and resolutions of endorsement of "a favorite son." Gradually the party conventions took shape until in 1840 was evolved the plan that obtains today.

The Modus Operandi.

What is the exact modus operandi of the national convention? The vast machinery is set in motion every four years, usually in Washington around December, by a button which the national committee of one of the great political parties presses. This button consists in formulating calls for the presidential nominating conventions to the state and district committees, which in turn call state and district conventions for the selection of delegates.

A ROYAL FEATHER CLOAK.

Kalakaua Couldn't Wear It, and His Groom Disgraced It.

When King Kalakaua of Hawaii visited Japan many years ago he was very anxious to exhibit to the Japanese his famous royal feather cloak. It did not look well draped over the regular costume of the king, which was based on European military models. It was out of the question to wear it draped over brown cuticle, as was the ancient fashion. Finally it was decided to let Robert, one of his attendants, wear it.

William N. Armstrong, the king's attorney general, said: "This additional service delighted Robert, who now, according to a confidential statement made to his Japanese attendant, was 'keeper of the royal standard,' 'groom of the feather cloak' and 'valet in ordinary.' While in the imperial car, on the way to Tokyo, the king's suit had suddenly seen Robert sitting in state in the luggage car dressed in a silk hat, white gloves and with the gorgeous royal cloak hanging over his shoulders, the tableau being completed by a group of Japanese attendants who were standing before him lost in admiration.

"But Robert was scarcely equal to the dignity that was his. In his capacity of valet he preceded the party to the palace assigned to them and discovered there abundance of wines and spirits which he consumed until

Each state is allowed twice as many delegates as it has electoral votes. Two delegates are chosen for each congressional district by the party convention of that district and from four to eight for the whole state called delegates at large by the state convention. Each delegate has an alternate.

As soon as these calls are out the party committees of the different counties or other subdivisions of the state convene and provide for a choice of delegates from their respective counties to the state and congress conventions.

Then the county committee issues calls to the different precinct committees or precinct heads, who summon the voters of their districts at primary election to choose the delegates who are to speak for them and, as is usually the case, give them instructions as to how they are to speak.

Highest Bidder Gets It.

Out of it all come the delegates, or rather, the temporary delegates. The national committee passes on the roll of delegates when two men are contesting for a place, deciding which will be accepted. Then the convention itself ratifies the action of the committee and usually pronounces the temporary roll as permanent.

Meanwhile the city offering the best inducements in the way of a convention hall and other expenses, some times reaching $100,000, as in the case of Baltimore this year, is selected by the committee as the place of meeting. The local hotels plume themselves for the event, storekeepers bring out decorations, brass bands venter their instruments with unwonted lustre—in short, the city gowns itself in full gala day attire.

The delegations from each state, with their respective chairmen, gather in a certain section of the hall under banners. With the galleries thronged by 12,000 or 14,000 spectators and somewhat over 1,000 delegates on the floor, the chairman of the national committee calls the convention to order.

There is an opening prayer, one day by a Catholic priest, another by an Episcopal minister—the various denominations all receiving recognition. Then a temporary chairman is nominated, following which is the appointment of secretaries, clerks and other necessary officials, together with the adoption of the rules which are to govern the business. Then the committees, among them those on credentials and resolutions, are appointed, and adjournment is taken to wait upon their reports.

Getting Down to Business.

The next sitting usually names a permanent chairman. Then the report of the resolutions committee, which contains the platform or the principles and program of the party, is read and ordinarily sustained. Follows the real business of the convention, when the roll of the states is called. "Ohio" is sung out from the desk, and a prominent delegate from Ohio rises, steps to the rostrum and proposes with oratorical flourish the Ohio candidate. The roll call completed and all candidates, ranging from perhaps seven to twelve in number, proposed, the business of balloting begins.

As the clerks run down the roll from Alabama to Wyoming the chairman of each state announces the various numbers of votes for each of the candidates from his delegation, except where the unit rule prevails, in which case the whole vote of the delegation goes to the one candidate who has a majority of the delegation's votes. That contestant is selected under the Republican rule who receives a majority—under the Democratic, two-thirds of all the votes. Not always is the candidate chosen on the first ballot. There may be many roll calls before any one wins the requisite majority.

In 1852 the Democrats agreed on Franklin Pierce only after forty-nine ballots had been taken. The Whigs in that year went four better than their opponents in selecting General Scott. Of recent years, or, accurately, since 1892, there has been little doubt as to the nominee. In that year both Mr. Harrison and Mr. Cleveland were chosen on the first ballot.

They arrived. He was found asleep in the king's bed-chamber with the silk hat far down over his head and the gorgeous cloak askew on his shoulders. He was at once deposed from his office of "groom of the feather cloak."

Battleship New York May Leave Ways With Machinery In Place.

Authorities at the New York navy yard are considering the introduction of a number of innovations at the launching of the battleship New York, which will take place near the end of this year.

A report has gained circulation that if the navy department will give its consent an attempt will be made to launch the vessel with all the machinery in her.
